In The Churches

BAPTIST

Rev. T. E. Richards, R. A. Minister

Sunday Feb. 15th.

11 a.m. Service with drawn. The congregation will attend the 3rd Bible School and Adult classes.

7 p.m. "Subject" Indifference and its causes.

"The greatest honor you can do the truth is to see it."

The evening service begins with a song service and ends with an after meeting.

You are cordially invited.

The annual meeting of the Niagara

Peninsula Growers takes place on February

16th, in Moore's theatre, starting at 1 o'clock.

On Thursday night someone broke into the refreshment booth of Win.

Chives and stole at the Arena while the staff was away for supper, and the thieves must have been hidden in the building previously. To get into the booth they had to climb and lock off the door, and took a large amount of goods. The police claim to have a good clue as to the guilty parties.

The Ven. Archdeacon McIntosh of Dundas, the Rev. W. O. Thompson, of the Church of the Redeemer, Stoney

Creek; the Rev. John Samuel of St.

Stephen's Church, Hamilton; the Rev.

H. A. West of St. John's church, Winona; and the Rev. J. Allan Ballard of St. Andrew's Church, Grimsby, lunch-

ed together at the Village Inn on Tuesday in a get-together meeting in view of the mission being conducted at Winona and Stoney Creek this week.

Archdeacon McIntosh will have charge at Stoney Creek, and the Rev. John

Samuel at Winona.

Lena Davis Chapter, I. O. D. E., and the Women's Institute of Beaverville, held a get-together meeting on Saturday last when about 100 attended.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation in the board of education of a full set of minutes for the kitchenette of Community hall. Mrs. George

Cooke, president of the Women's Institute and Mrs. R. T. Crow, regent of

I. O. U. E. were in charge of the meeting; and the Rev. Dr. Rupert of St.

Stephen's Church, Hamilton, gave the opening prayer. The program was given by Mrs. J. Jeffrey, Mrs. George

Shepherd, and Mrs. George Greville.

There is no truth in the rumor to the effect that the Valentine Dance under the auspices of the Ladies' Institute, at the O. H. A., will be postponed on account of the holiday. The dance will be held as usual on Saturday night at the Village Inn.

Due to the fact that the Grimsby

Dads were unable to play their first game in the third round of the O. H. A.

junior series in Oakville last night, but will stage up against the Oakville kids at the local Arena in the first game tomorrow night. A good crowd should turn out and help the kids along.

Obituary

MRS. FRANCIS BEST

Word was received this week of the death of Mrs. Francis Best, whose death occurred at Vancouver, B. C.

This was not altogether unexpected as the deceased lady had been ailing off and on all last week.

She was born in 1857 in Grimsby and was the daughter of the late

John and Mary Best. She was married to the late Mr. Francis

Best of Grimsby, and lived in Grimsby until her death.

She was an adherent of the Presbyterian Church.

The remains arrived in Grimsby

Wednesday afternoon and will be interred at 2 o'clock, interment at Grimsby Cemetery.

Mrs. Loonan says:
"Carnol" my life—many thanks to Carnol!"

But read her letter. It tells her story better than we can. "I feel it my duty to write you about your wonderful medicine Carnol. In January I had an operation for appendicitis. The pain I suffered before the operation and the loss of blood afterwards left me so weak and run down that I was unable to get about on my feet. I just had to be around all the time. The doctor said I was to take iron for my blood for it was so thin. I had anemia and folks said I had only a short time to live. Carnol saved my life—many thanks to Carnol. I have gained about ten pounds in three months. After every meal I used to have indigestion and heartburn, but had that the pain was intense. A dose of Carnol would give me immediate relief. Now I am absolutely cured of both. I had severe headaches and pains across my back and they have also disappeared. This is how I started using Carnol. I asked a friend about Carnol. She said it was awfully good. Her doctor had recommended it to her to take after she had been in bed for months and she was completely cured. I called up my druggist and asked him about Carnol. He recommended it and said he was just one of it and wanted me to take a bottle of Carnol, iron and wine, but I said, 'No, I want Carnol.' So he said he would send me and get me some. Just as soon as it came I commenced to take it and it has renewed my blood and given me a wonderful appetite. I never have to take a laxative with this medicine. I cannot recommend your medicine highly enough. It is just exactly what the system needs."—Mrs. Wilson H. Loonan, Innesville, Ont. 9-24 tric pump and pressure tank, bubblers and taps in wash basins.

In S. S. No. 4 Clinton chemical closets were installed. These are inside the buildings and the old outside closets were removed.

In S. S. No. 2 Clinton, a complete system of water supply and flush closets was installed.

In S. S. No. 1 North Grimsby 1/2 acre was added to the school grounds, and the front of the grounds much improved.

In S. S. No. 7 Grantham, flush closets and septic tanks were installed.

Teachers' Work and Change of Teachers

There were 9 changes of teachers, in January, 1924 and 32 in midsummer and 6 changes during the school terms.

This number of changes is much less than in previous years and the number of teachers without experience is much less than formerly. On account of this greater permanency of teachers, much better work is being done in most of the schools.

There seems to be a surplus of teachers at the present time, and there is a great temptation to cut teachers' salaries, especially in cases where Trustees do not understand the way in which the Government grants are paid. There are still some Trustees who believe that the Government grants come out of their taxes. It should not be necessary to say that these Government grants are paid out of them comes out of taxes. It costs teachers just as much as ever to get their education, and for living expenses, and Trustees should continue to pay salaries at the present rate as long as the Government grants are paid on the present basis.

School Attendance and Attendance Officers

The actual attendance in the rural schools is 87.13 per cent. of the possible attendance. In 1923 it was 84.38 per cent.

The actual attendance in the urban schools is 90.74 per cent. of the possible attendance. In 1923 it was 89.55 per cent.

The actual attendance for the whole county is 88.74 per cent. of the possible attendance. In 1923 it was 85.95 per cent.

This gives the following improvement for the year:

The actual attendance in the rural school is 2.77 per cent. nearer the possible attendance than it was in 1923.

The actual attendance in the urban schools is 1.19 per cent. nearer the possible attendance than it was in 1923.

The actual attendance in the whole county is 2.79 per cent. nearer the possible attendance than it was in 1923.

The improvement in the attendance is one of the best signs of good work in the schools and of increased interest in education.

It might be of interest to know the percentage in the different municipalities as this will give some idea of the work done by the Attendance Officers:

Caistor Township the actual attendance is 85.5 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Clinton Township the actual attendance is 86.5 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Grimsby Township the actual attendance is 87.5 per cent. of the possible attendance.

North Grimsby Township the actual attendance is 87.2 per cent. of the possible attendance.

South Grimsby Township the actual attendance is 86.8 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Louth Township the actual attendance is 87.1 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Niagara Township the actual attendance is 89 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Beamsville the actual attendance is 86.6 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Grimsby the actual attendance is 88.25 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Merriton the actual attendance is 92 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Niagara Town the actual attendance is 94.2 per cent. of the possible attendance.

Port Dalhousie the actual attendance is 94 per cent. of the possible attendance.

There should be an improvement in certain municipalities. The Attendance Officers should look after delinquents more promptly, especially those who are out of school through carelessness of parents, or truancy.

School Nurses

In March 1924 the second unit of school's work was organized, and a school nurse began work in the schools of Beamsville, Grimsby and a number of schools in North Grimsby, Clinton and Louth. The other units, which include schools in Merriton, Port Dalhousie, Grantham, and some schools in Niagara and Louth. There are now 81 class rooms in the country which have the services of a school nurse.

The work done by the school nurses has produced very important results, and cannot fail to have a far-reaching effect on the health of the rising generation. What this will mean to each child, hygienic and efficiency of the future can only be estimated.

In this connection, it is to mention the assistance received by the nurses from the Medical Officers of Health of the different municipalities, the medical profession, the Women's Institutes, the Home and School Clubs and other organizations, and private individuals who have helped to secure treatment for many cases requiring attention.

The results of the High School Entrance Examinations are an indication of the efficiency of a school. It must not be forgotten that there are other features of the work of a school more important than passing examinations, but as a rule the examination results are a fairly reliable index of the kind of work being done in a school.

The number who passed the Entrance Examinations in 1924 is 6.11 per cent. of the total enrollment. A comparison of the results with those of previous years shows that a much higher percentage of pupils are completing the Public School course and are able to go on to High School. In 1918 2.8 per cent. of the total enrollment passed the Entrance. In 1923 5.5 per cent. passed the Entrance. The percentage passing the Entrance has more than doubled in seven years.

Visits of the Inspector, Etc.

I visited all the schools during the year as required by the regulations except a few schools in the fall term. On account of making a number of special visits to certain schools, attending School Fairs, and other visits, I did not get to quite complete the full list of visits to all the schools. I might point out that the number of rooms is now 132 and that this is too large a number for an inspector to give as much time as should be given to every school. I have also attended a large number of meetings of ratepayers, trustees and meetings for other purposes.

THE OLD OFFICE TOWER

(By Borden, in Brooklyn Eagle)
When I think of the tower,
The old-fashioned tower,
That used to hang by no printing-house door,
I think this nobody
In those days of shoddy,
Can hammer out iron to wear as it wore.

The tramp who altered it,
The devil who used it,
The comp who got at it when these two were gone,
The makeup and foreman,
The editor, the man,
Each rubbed some grime off for the leap they put on.

It grew old and under
It was blacker than thunder,
Was harder than poverty, rougher than sin.
From the roller, expanded!
It never was headed,
And it lay on the wall like a banner of sin.

It grew thicker and rougher,
And harder and tougher,
And daily got on more inkier hue;
Till one windy morning,
Without any warning,
It fell to the floor and was broken in two.

The 1925 cars are more goody, but the mortgage is just as prosaic as last.

A "lending operation," in simple language means borrowing money to pay a debt.

Another time when man gets the last word is when he says: "All right, but I'll lay a closed one."

The cross word puzzle is downed, but best minds are beginning to call it "helpful."

About the easiest way to shine a society is to wear a blue serge that has been too often to the presser.

One reason why girls no longer act natural is because men would act too blamable natural.

Imagination, Humor, Kindness, Athletics Attributes to Success

But Real Success Rarely Obtained Except Through Individual Effort. Says E. W. Beatty.

EDWARD
BEATTY

There are many exceptions to every rule in which accident or good fortune seem to have played a great part in a boy's or a man's life, but in the main, real success is probably rarely obtained except through individual effort. In addressing the students of Lower Canada College recently, E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, enumerated as qualities and attributes to successful success, work, self-reliance, coupled with modesty, loyalty, imagination, humor, studied thought and human kindness.

"If I were to pick out for you the most admirable quality possessed by the students of this college, I would say that it is that of loyalty; loyalty to your family, to your school, to your university, to your country and to yourself. The second in the long list of qualities which are admirable in imagination; dreams mean idealism and idealism is often followed by constructive vision. Imagination enables a man to take out of life sometimes more than there is in it. Retain as long as you can your faith in other men."

"The third quality that I would mention is self-reliance, and I think that it is probably one of the outstanding characteristics of the Canadian young men. The field of athletics, Mr. Beatty considers as the most helpful contributor to the spirit of self-reliance and having cultivated the out-door spirit he would then cultivate a sense of humor—not the harmful humor that only taken delight in the confusion or humiliation of others, but that humor which enables a man to laugh at himself and hold himself in proper proportion, a man who sees the bright side and communicates the brightness to others."

"Now, most of you, he said, 'will proceed from here to a university and into a profession, or maybe with-out the university course into business, and you will want to succeed, and perhaps you would not mind my saying some of the things that I have observed that contributed to a man's success. At the outset come the qualities I have mentioned to you because they are so admirable in themselves. There are many and I can only mention a few. I have mentioned self-reliance. Couple it with modesty—that fast disappearing virtue—and you have a combination of immeasurable value to any boy starting in life. 'Now there is a word, an ugly word, which has a great deal to do with a boy's or a man's success—Work. . . . This school and higher colleges can give you much. They can teach you to think, study and analyze, but your education in itself will not make you anything. This is a result which must come from your own effort. Do your own thinking. Advice and counsel with others, especially older and more experienced people. Mental exercise is just as good as athletics if you are later to take your place in a contest where judgment and brains are your chief equipment and not physical powers. 'The last quality I am going to mention which helps a boy to succeed is human kindness.' Mr. Beatty said. 'Your own success will never be rewarded by a kindly and neighborly spirit. Remember that you will go much farther through the good will of others than you can possibly go by climbing over someone's back.'

FRUIT GROWERS' CONVENTION

E. F. Palmer, Experimental Station, Vineland, gave an account of what the station was doing in regard to new fruits, etc. By crossing our own pears with Russian blight resistant varieties, they have been trying to get blight resistant pears for the Niagara district, but so far have not got any of such good quality, but have formed a wild seedling with quality and blight resistance of native origin, which has shown considerable promise. It is of moderate size, good texture and matures after being packed green, will keep well for three weeks, and is about two weeks later than Harbinger. They have three or four promising black sweet cherry seedlings, and one white one, better than Governor Wood.

President Paul Fisher, in his address, referred to their success last year in preventing a raise in express rates on fruit and urged the transportation committee to take up the matter of freight rates, which have increased 30 per cent. over pre-war rates, and urge a reduction, as they are out of line with the times and very unfair. For instance, onions from California come into Montreal and Toronto at the same rate as ours do and many other vegetables and fruits from outside points in the United States come in at the same rates as ours to the Montreal and Ottawa markets. The fruit exhibit at the Royal Winter Fair was very creditable, and he gave high praise to W. L. Hamilton, Collingwood, who won the sweepstake prize for the best box of apples, beating British Columbia, etc. Unfortunately at the Imperial Fruit Show, at Birmingham, we were unable to keep our high standard of former years, as we captured no first prizes, all of which went to British Columbia. Our box exhibit was not a credit to the province; two reasons for that were that our season was so late and that no representative was sent over with the fruit to see that it was properly put up. The president spoke of the Canadian Horticultural Council and its activities. Fruit associations should make suggestions to it as to where the place of the old Dominion Conference. Representatives from each of the branches of Horticulture in Canada attend it, and it is essential to protect and maintain its name and prestige. All matters of importance to horticulture come before this council. The fruit men have eight representatives and there are nine from other sources: dealers, vegetable growers, etc.

The Department of Horticulture at the O.A.C. is not given sufficient attention, and is situated in its equipment and government grants. In order that our sons should learn the theory there is a great need for more active extension work in the province outside of the Niagara district. The president said that the marketing of our fruit by means of co-operation is being tried in the Niagara peninsula, and he did not know whether the present scheme was right or not, or whether it has had a fair chance. This matter must be carefully considered. National advertising of our fruit and schemes for raising money for this purpose is an important matter, and our grading should be better than it is. He then referred to the tariff and pointed out that the separating of product for tariff purposes was often incorrectly done, for instance, bad berries were sometimes introduced into a car in order to reduce the duty. No rebate should be granted without the certificate of the fruit inspector attached to the custom's report—importers at present are evading the duty in various ways. President Fisher concluded by paying high tribute to the valuable services rendered by the association by Secretary P. W. Hedkott.

Speaking on the problem of the 'Unproductive Tree', J. H. Gurley, of the Ohio Experimental Station at Wooster, said that trees were unproductive from many causes. The first thing was to plant proper varieties, and the matter of proper pollination was very important, the difficulty was to tell whether non-production was caused by imperfect pollination or something else. In Ohio many apple orchards were planted in blocks of one or two varieties only. Some claim there is no such thing as a pollination problem, if the trees are in good healthy condition, that it is a matter of impoverished soil condition or bad pruning, but there is a pollination problem, and it is larger a matter of weather, frosts and unfavorable weather at blossoming-time are often followed by a light crop of fruit, as cold inclement weather weakens pollination and there are few bees working, yet some trees have a good crop. Excessive pruning is a great mistake. Taking 100 as a maximum in an apple orchard 10 years old, lightly pruned trees set 74 per cent, heavily pruned 55, trees heavily pruned both when dormant and in summer 12. Light corrective pruning is what we are coming to. Trees just beginning to bear often miss a set. Some varieties have weak pollen. In apples: Grimes Golden, Yellow Transparent, Jonathan, McIntosh and Ben Davis are good pollenizers. Baldwin and Rhode Island Greening are poor. The Spry is moderately good. Prof. Gurley advocated mixed planting, and not in solid blocks of one variety—a few trees of a good pollinizer intermixed would make a great difference to the set.

Stanley Johnson, speaking on 'Culture of Black and Red Raspberries in Michigan,' said that great caution should be exercised in buying nursery stock. The best way was to raise your own, and next to buy from known sources. Raspberries are blight-prone plants, freshly dug in the spring, are the best, others are apt to winter kill or dry out. Raspberries are attacked by many diseases: The blue stem disease had put many of their growers out of business. They had adopted quarantine and rigid inspections of plantations twice a year, in June and after the fruit is off. Mosaic is also bad. Cultivation should be shallow either with plow or small disc. Cultivation every week during picking time. Light sandy soils benefit from nitrate soda or sulphate of ammonia, one hundred per cent. A dormant spray of lime-sulphur for anthracnose 1 to 20 is sufficient if thoroughly done, another one at 1 to 50 after blossoming time can be given. Marking: lay a good boat service to Chicago, etc. For long distance, pre-cooling is good if the berries are carefully handled, but rough handling and picking destroys all advantage. Pruned: Red grown in hedge rows leave cane unpruned first year, next spring cut back according to vigor of cane. The time of cane is very important, large canes give a greater yield and larger berries. All spindling canes should be removed. The average grower leaves too many canes and reduces the size of his berries.

Black raspberries: Leave 3 to 5 canes per hill. Laterals pruned closely give best results, give a good yield of fruit with a 20 per cent. saving in labor bill, there being 15¢ million fewer berries to the acre, but as much or more crates. Varieties: Blacks: 1, Cumberland; 2, Plow Farmer. Reds: 1, Cuthbert; 2, King. The latter with them is ten days earlier than Cuthbert, but quality not so good for market or canning.

The following resolutions were passed: 1. Appreciating the efforts of Dominion and Ontario Departments of Agriculture in connection with the spray service in Lincoln, Durham and Northumberland counties. 2. Urging the Horticultural Council to continue their efforts to guarantee spray material. 3. Tendering thanks to the press for publicity before and during the convention. 4. Resolutions submitted by the various associations to the Horticultural Council shall be submitted to them at least thirty days before the annual meeting. 5. Endorsing the identification and elimination of mixtures in fruit trees. 6. Appointing delegates to co-operate with Nurserymen's Association in the matter of 7. Endorsing enforcement of P. Fruit Act re closed packages. 8. In approval of granting permission to growers and associations handling 4-5 quarts to stamp only packages containing the boxes instead of the individual small ones. 9. In approval of showing made by spray machinery exhibits and recommending that more space be secured for these at next year's convention. 10. Going on record as not approving revision in the grading of apples.

There was a complaint in a village a few miles from Edinburgh regarding tram-car fares. For some time into the city the company charged a shilling. This, in the opinion of many, was too much. A delegation visited the offices of the company and made representations in favor of a lower rate, and it was decided that thereafter six tickets might be had for the former price.

The villagers returned home rejoicing, but there was at least one man who did not share in the joy that a wise step had been taken. 'It's foolishness,' he stated. 'Now we've got to walk to the six times instead of four times to see a "biling".'

AVOID LIX WALLS

It is well remembered that dark walls make the room smaller, and light treatment makes them seem larger. To knowledge helps when we are bing for the right thing in paper.

"The Longest Way Round—"

What a storm! flash, bang! There goes our last line!

The speaker was the engineer at the Dundas Hydro sub-station. He and his assistants had been striving ever since the storm of '22, to keep the electricity flowing, but the storm King was too strong, so the blown fuses indicated.

"I'll telephone the Niagara Power House," said the chief. He did, and in a comparatively short time the damage was repaired and the electric current flowing again. But the chief had little idea of how that telephone call got through. Not until sometime afterwards did he learn that owing to the same storm which disabled his power leads, the telephone connection between Hamilton and Niagara Falls was out of commission.

Realizing the seriousness of the situation, the Hamilton Long Distance operator took a chance when the Dundas call for Niagara Falls came in. She called Toronto asking for a connection via Montreal, New York, Buffalo and thence to Niagara Falls, Ont. It worked, and as the power people stated, Miss Florence Caulfield's quick work in the emergency saved them thousands of dollars. The twelve-hundred-mile talk was the shortest way to safety.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO
DEPARTMENT OF MINES

Mineral Resources of Ontario

The Province of Ontario contains 407,262 square miles of territory, 70 per cent. of which is overlain by the great "pre-Cambrian shield," whose rock formations are pre-eminently the metal-bearers of the northern half of this continent. Only the southern edge of this shield has been penetrated, yet several rich mining areas have been opened up, and are now yielding their riches of gold, silver, nickel and copper.

The sepulchres of ancient Egyptian kings and the dim records of pre-historic man show that from the earliest times, one object of universal human desire has been gold. Ontario is fast becoming an important contributor to the world's stock of this metal. In 1911 Ontario's gold production was worth $42,637; in 1923, $20,082. '26. Ontario is surpassed only by two other sources, the production figures for 1923 being:

Transvaal . . . . .	9,132,722 ounces
United States . . . . .	9,485,445 "
Ontario . . . . .	971,518 "

At present the Porcupine, Kirkland Lake and other camps are producing gold at about the rate of $2,000,000 per month, and the number of mines yielding bullion is steadily increasing.

In addition to Porcupine, where the giant Hollinger, the Dome and . . . are the leading mines, Kirkland Lake with the Teck-Hughes, Lake Shore, Wright-Hargreaves, and others, newer camps are being developed at Larder Lake, Matachewan, Lightning River, Schreiber, Goudreau and other places.

In silver, the phenomenal fields of Cobalt, South Lorrain and Gowganda give Ontario a high place. Up to the end of 31st December, 1923, the silver production of Ontario amounted in value to $227,700,000. More than one ton of pure silver is at the present moment being yielded by these mines every day. The recently discovered treasure-chambers of the Keeley and Frontier mines in South Lorrain are turning out quantities of ore as rich as any ever mined in the early days of Cobalt, and during the present year. Gowganda has returned to active and important production.

The Sudbury mines supply 90 per cent. of the world's nickel, and the nickel industry has recovered from the depression which followed the great war. The product of the Sudbury mines last year was worth in nickel $9,563,416, and in copper $3,466,067.

The non-metallic minerals produced in Ontario are numerous and varied. They include, arsenic, feldspar, graphite, mica, salt, talc, garnet, and many other useful substances. The supplies of granite, trap, limestone, and materials for construction and road-making are inexhaustible, and there are marbles of great variety and beauty.

For lists of publications, maps of mining areas, mining laws, geological reports and other information, apply to

Honorable Charles McCrea,
Minister of Mines,

Portia's Father Was Old-fashioned

IN THE days of Shakespeare's famous heroine, buying and selling were contests of wit. Venice, haggling and dickering were the vogue. Along the Rialto, sharp practice was the rule. Every purchase of silk or spices was made at the buyer's risk. One had to be a shrewd judge of values and one's fellows to escape trickery.

Portia's father—a merchant—was used to the ideas of guess, luck and accident. So much so, indeed, that it seemed natural to him to entrust the choice of his daughter's husband to three closed caskets and a lucky guess!

Nowadays, we do not transact business blindly—nor leave important decisions to chance. It is not necessary for us to gamble when we buy. Commodities are identified for us by trade-marks. Manufacturers go to the advertising columns to tell us about their products. Merchants describe their merchandise—price, quality and service.

By reading advertisements, we get a knowledge of goods and stores that we can depend on. Advertising reduces chance, in buying, to a minimum.

KINGS WIN ROUND FROM CAYUGA 14-4

"Bud" Reid and his galloping Peach Kings are all set and rarin' to go in the fourth round of the O.H.A. intermediate series. On Friday and Monday nights they disposed of the Cayuga team and won the second round 14-4 by taking the first tilt 5-1 and the home fracas 9-1. The boys are all in the pink to tackle Brantford TONIGHT at the local ice palace and will battle hard to pull out a victory by a good margin. They play back in the Telephone City on Friday night—providing there is ice.

AT CAYUGA

The Peach Kings braved the elements and the C. N. R. system last Friday and journeyed over to Cayuga to play the first of their second round games. After changing conveyances at Hamilton, Chateaufort, and Canfield Junction they arrived at the thriving village to find a brass band and about 500 natives apparently on the job to greet them. Dixon's crew got real puffed up about it until someone spilled the beans—the band and parade wasn't for the Kings but for the home town juniors who returned on the same train from Oakville after winning a hot game.

Nevertheless a good time was had by all and the Kings reciprocated by treating the natives to a high class exhibition of speed and stick handling at not too much work for themselves. The game had only progressed a few minutes when McVicar notched tally No. 1 on a hard low shot. Reid counted No. 2 on an end to end rush while Horne duplicated the performance for the third tally. With an apparently safe lead the locals were content to take matters easy in the second period and conserve their energy for more important fixtures. Relief was given often so that the game was not allowed to drag and speed and team work were displayed for the edification of the natives. During the process Carson and Burnside each rained the bull. The home team also tallied one. The third stanza found the Kings willing to let the homesters do the skating and they did it to such good advantage that they notched two counters while our Buddy wasn't looking.

It was an extremely close contest throughout, Referee Gay Smith only handing out one penalty, and that for an accidental trip. McVicar wasn't used at all during the first period, Manager Dixon giving the tall one a chance to rest up the leg. The boys from Buddy out all looked like a million dollars displaying plenty of speed, stick-handling, and back checking when in-cluded to do so. It was a good work out for the locals and it gave the natives a plenty of thrills as the pot was kept boiling all the time.

AT HOME

Rubber boots, slicker coats and "umbrellas" took the place of heavy coats, goggles and ear-muffs at the Arena on Monday night when a few handfuls of the faithful turned out to see the Peach Kings wallop Cayuga 9-1. The warm spell had turned the snowbanks into rivers and the ice in the rink was not in any too good shape either. The players complained most of the warm air, more than the ice, as "Pop" McVicar explained it. "It's almost as hot out there as playing baseball in August."

The game itself was ragged and draggy for two periods as the Kings were taking things fairly easy, being satisfied to lay back and check up the rushes of the visitors. In the third stanza they cut loose and scored six of the evening's nine goals.

Nick Burnside tallied the only counter of the first period when he winged a fast one that hit the boards back of the nets and bounced into the air, dropped into the goal behind the goalie's back.

In the second frame Reid netted one on a sweet rush through the defence and was followed three minutes later by Horne who after rushing carried around in front of the goal, and backhanded the disc in. Cayuga got their only tally when Dyke headed a loose one at Finbar that hit him on the shoulder and bounced out for Burnside to grab it and score.

In the third stanza the locals went on a goal getting rampage for a brief few moments and netted six. Three of these went to the stick of Horne while Reid, Mayhew and Carson each notched one. Heavy, Holdehan and Conaway Phinadeo McVicar only played the first and second periods, the lanky boy doffing the "hat" and watching the third frame from the reserved seat section.

Burns, the little colored junior boy, was the best man for the visitors, while the Kings had no outstanding star except it was Horne who electrified the crowd by his brilliant rushing and scoring in the third period. All the lads played their positions well and while not overworked, took no chances on C. raps pulling a surprise package on them.

As this is the first time that Grimsby has ever had a hockey team that carried the local colors through a hard group fight without a defeat a large number of fans are desirous of securing a picture of the team. Murdoch can supply your wants.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Q. L. "Smoke" McBride, one of the trainers responsible for keeping the Peach Kings in first class physical condition. Many a hockey game has been won in the dressing room, by the efforts of the trainers in getting a crippled up player from one team, back into action for another one.

PEACH BUDS WIN THEIR PROTEST

"Jimmy" Farrell who during the past four years has handled more protests and fought more cases in the O. H. A. than any other man in the game had at last succeeded in winning one of his protests.

Hockey club officials were notified by Secretary Hewitt on Thursday afternoon last that their protests against Niagara Falls juniors for playing a man over age had been sustained and Grimsby Peach Buds would be allowed to go ahead and play in the second round.

Hewitt, left before man the Falls team, was the man in question and according to affidavits filed and evidence submitted from Secretary Charlton's office of the N. O. H. A. it was shown that this man was at least two years over the age limit and was therefore not eligible for junior hockey.

Secretary Hewitt confirmed these statements and nullified all games played by the Falls against Grimsby and Hamilton Bowling Club. This left the two teams tied for group honors, but as Bowling Club had already played one game in the second round they were ordered to complete their two game series and Grimsby was ordered to play Oakville in Oakville last night and back in Grimsby to-morrow night.

SPORTY SPORTLETS

Welland, Feb. 4.—Sam Lambert's large skating rink here was wrecked today when the roof collapsed from the quantity of snow piled on it. The loss will be considerable.

—Navy, Westworth's Brantford team that play Peach Kings in the local Arena tonight won their round from Windsor by 5-4, taking the first game 3-2 and losing the second one 2-1. The boys from Dykewille are a snappy aggregation and will take a lot of beating.

Neway Lalonde and his Mashonoo Shetles are sitting on top in the Western Canada League.

Red Ice has played havoc with the O. H. A. schedules, but Grimsby goes right on playing. "Good Ice in Any Weather" is Geo. Hoshak's slogan.

"Bo" Farrell was a visitor to the Peach King's dressing room on Monday night after he had his leg broken at Niagara Falls two months ago. "Bo" has shattered the crutches and is now able to get around with only the assistance of a cane.

Dunnville defeated Pt. Carleton 4-2 in a sudden death game at Dunnville, in a Northern League senior fixture.

The Treaty of Paris, by which Canada was ceded by France to Great Britain, was signed in Paris on February 12, 1763. Governor Vaudreuil had surrendered Canada to General Amherst at Montreal on September 8, 1760, and from that time the British had been in possession of the country and had administered it. The treaty made the conquest complete and final.

One Weeks Routine Of Grimsby Hockey Fan

(By Old Fan)

Monday
Rises early. At breakfast wife and he discuss hockey situation. He tells wife he'd be pretty tired after a hard day's work and she'd better go to game with Mrs. Neighbor. Proceeds down town, meets friend and discusses prospects of Monday's, Wednesday's and Friday's Peach Kings' games, and Tuesday's and Thursday's juniors. Tells friend he'd like to see them all, but too busy and can't afford it.

Meets second friend and conversation ditto.
Meets other friends and ditto until noon bell rings.
Hires himself to dinner. Tells wife he's been working very hard, but it's just one of those mornings when he can't seem to make any progress.
Goes back down town. Spends the afternoon talking over the team's chances and which ones they will meet in the next round if they win this one. And so on until six.

Goes home and tells wife he guesses they'd better go to the game. Don't look like much of a crowd and the boys need encouragement. Goes to game and replays it until two in the morning.

Tuesday
At breakfast wife and he again replay game. Speaks about the kids' game at Oakville—like to go but can't afford it. It's too far away anyhow and he'd have to kick off work early.
Wanders down town.
Again replays Monday night's game and speculates about the kids' game until noon, also tries to doze out Wednesday's game.

At dinner tells wife he's got along much better today and guesses he'll have a go to Oakville. The game seems to be deserting the kids and someone should be there to help them.

Goes back down town.
Discusses hockey until time to go to Oakville. Also all the way over. Sees the game and replays it all the way home.

Has to replay it for the wife.
Finally asleep at 3 o'clock.
Wakes up at 5 to ask if he has remembered tickets for tonight's game.
He hasn't, but promises to do so. Discusses prospects of it until 8. Finally gets to sleep.

Wednesday
Late breakfast and hurries down town for tickets. Tells about juniors' game to all who weren't present and discusses Brantford game until noon.
At dinner wife and he talk about hockey and speculates.
Both hope we get a square deal tonight.

Replays Monday's and Tuesday's games and speculates on Wednesday's, Thursday's and Friday's; also what will happen after that.

A LITTLE TALK ON THRIFT

By R. W. Simms, President American Society for Thrift

In connection with the recent activities commemorating the anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birth, it was brought out that he was our first American philanthropist. He exemplified the relationship between true thrift and true philanthropy.

There are those, to be sure, who would call thrift the antithesis of philanthropic actions. But, as Franklin proved in his own life, the same impulses which made it possible for him to thrive led him to assist others to do so.

No man succeeds who is thoroughly selfish. Continued selfishness begets narrowness of vision. It arrests personal progress because it looks one ever toward more restricted viewpoints.

To thrive in reality one must be alive to the needs of others. One must be in tune with the times. One must be able to view life in its complexities.

The spirit which actuates us to look out for ourselves, tends us to look out for others.

In connection with Franklin's philosophy, it was said that he always succeeded to assist others to do so. The greatest usefulness to himself, he felt, came from the debt, instead of being repaid to him, should be turned over to some worthy person in need of such assistance. In this way he felt he could do the greatest amount of good with the sum of money at his disposal.

One of the finest possible qualities to the value of thrift lies in the fact that it arouses impulses within us that it arouses proper as well as our selves.

One cannot take up those practices which result in one's own right well being without being led to acts that are helpful to others who are worthy of assistance.

POISONOUS PLANTS STING LIKE SNAKES

In some tropical jungles there are plants whose stings are deadly as quick as the bite of a poisonous snake. In Central America, there is a shrubby plant which is a distant cousin of that which grows in our own hedges. The stem, leaves and flowers are covered with long, sharp, stinging hairs, really tubes made of very brittle tissue. When one of these is touched it breaks off, leaving a kind of sharp-pointed funnel. The point penetrates into the flesh and the poison is poured into the wound from a gland in the plant. The cruel stings of this plant are called, not after some death, though its sting results in sores that are painful for a long time. There are other plants, however, both in South America and the Far West whose poison is so deadly that it will kill a man before he is a very short time.

Gets so interested he forgets supper and has to call up wife that he's pretty busy and will have to eat cold town. Will meet her at Arena 8 o'clock sharp.

Discusses game in restaurant. Sees it, and replays it in restaurant afterward; also all the way home. Likewise at home until 3 o'clock. Goodness he can sleep in tomorrow and Friday nights.

Thursday
Combination breakfast and dinner at which Monday's, Tuesday's and Wednesday's games are replayed.

Guesses they'll stay home tonight and catch up some sleep—can't be following teams all winter.
Goes down town. Replays Brantford game and gives the gang the dope on the Oakville juniors; and discusses the Kings' chances in Brantford.

Hopes the ice is hard and they get a fair break. Can't take any chances with that outfit.

Discusses the physical condition of every player on both teams. Hopes nothing occurs in the injury line. And so on until six.

At supper, asks wife how she's feeling. She says all O. K. and then he tells her he guesses they had better go up to see the kids perform. She agrees.

They talk it over on way up and replay it on way down; also in restaurant and on way home.

Lights out at two after speculating on the Brantford game.

Friday
Another breakfast and dinner meal. Can only talk in whisper-hockey-its of throat. Wife asks him to be going to Brantford and is assured in seven languages that he isn't. Not to be so sure—the amount of work he has to do and besides can't afford it. Will have to make arrangements to get score by telephone. See her at six sharp and for goodness sake have lots to eat as he'll probably be hungry.

Wife thinks he's recovering his senses and proceeds to make his favorite pie.

At four o'clock he calls her up and informs her that his throat is "jake" and he's going with the gang—he'll call her at the end of every period.

Wife awfully sore, but agrees to lay off if he promises this is the last which he does.

On way to Brantford replays Monday's, Tuesday's, Wednesday's and Thursday's games and speculates on tonight's.

Sees game, replays it all the way home and for wife's benefit. Says he guesses he's hockey crazy, that thank goodness he can sleep on Sunday.

And then stays awake until morning figuring what he can do to please friend who says so that she'll forget about that promise.

NEW TRACTIVE RECORD BY CANADIAN TEAM

Through its engineering division the College of Agriculture, Province of Saskatchewan, Canada, has built a tractive dynamometer similar to the one invented and built at the Iowa Experimental Station, Ames, Iowa, for testing the pulling power of teams.

In the first tests held in 1923 at the Iowa State Fair the maximum tractive pull developed was 2,300 lbs. This was beaten in November by teams at the National Horse Show in New York City which registered a tractive pull of 2,400 lbs., which in turn was beaten by a team at Ames, Iowa, which registered a tractive pull of 2,500 lbs., equivalent to starting a load of 16.23 tons on granite black paving.

This latter Iowa record now has been beaten by a team at Calgary which developed a tractive pull of 2,600 lbs., equivalent to starting a load of 16.76 tons on granite black paving. This tremendous expenditure of energy was continued for a distance of 275 feet without cessation, whereas in starting a load on granite black paving such an expenditure of energy would not be required for more than a second, for as soon as the load is started the pull required drops from one-sixth to one-tenth that required in starting it.

Two other teams owned at Calgary broke previous U. S. records, as both of these teams were able to develop a tractive pull of 2,375 lbs. the full distance of 275 feet.

The development of the pulling capacity in which the power of horses is accurately measured is the tractive pull. This is of world-wide importance to horse breeders, developers as they do the tremendous service power possessed by horses and mules. The tests also bring out forcibly the type best suited to move very heavy loads and will be of far reaching importance in their selection, breeding operations, just as racing, long continued, has evolved a distinct type of race horse.

Organizations interested in horse breeding in Great Britain and Australia have written for plans with a view to building similar tractive dynamometers in those countries and real international competition is suggested by the Canadian team as a soon will be of interest to horse breeders in all parts of the world.

FRUIT GROWERS SHORT COURSES

To Fruit Growers—Appended herewith is a program of a proposed Short Course which is being held in the Niagara Peninsula Growers' Board Room, Grimsby, this week, and also in the High School Hall, Dunnville, February 12th, to 20th, inclusive.

These Courses are for your own use, and if you feel at all interested we would be glad to see you in attendance. Afternoon, and evening sessions will be held every day for five days at each place.

The staff of the Vineland Experiment Station, together with the Plant Pathology Dept., St. Catharines, will endeavor to acquaint you with the latest and best information on various phases of fruit growing as follows:

Wednesday
Afternoon—Principles and Practice of Pruning J. A. Neilson—Plant Diseases G. H. Berkley.
Evening—Orchard Soil Management J. A. Neilson—Plant Diseases G. H. Berkley.

Thursday
Afternoon—Fertilizer for Fruit Crops E. P. Palmer—Plant Diseases G. H. Berkley.
Evening—Nut Culture J. A. Neilson—Birds in Relation to Agriculture J. W. Crow.

Friday
Afternoon—Fruit Thinning J. A. Neilson—Orchard Underplanning W. P. Sharkey.
Evening—Diversified Fruit Growing W. S. VanKerry—Recommended Varieties of Fruit E. P. Palmer.
In connection with the Short Course in Agriculture there will be a special lecture in Parish Hall to-morrow (Thursday) night.

The speaker will be A. R. Jackson, of the Plant Pathology, University of St. Catharines, the talk to be accompanied by lantern slides. The subject will be Birds, and their relation to agriculture. In addition there will be a talk on the possibilities of soil culture, by J. A. Neilson who will have several varieties there to exhibit. Trusting you can arrange to attend these sessions and encourage your neighbors to come along, I remain, Yours very truly, W. S. VanKerry, Agricultural Representative.

A GOOD ONE ON HUMBLE

Some old yarns come out of a newly settled district, and here is one that is a good joke on Hugh Mulhern. The "man" sounds Irish but it isn't. It's Scotch, but the old time postmaster at Timmins in Northern Ontario, once thought Hughie might be a Doukhobor, a Wop, or some other foreigner. In the days before a post-office had been established at Timmins it was the custom for some one to get all the mail and be as it is the store, where the storekeeper was good enough to hand it out as the men came in.

But there was a large foreign element and after these letters had lain for a few days they were put in a soap box near the door, and the foreigners snatched out their own.

One day lack of amusement impelled Hugh Mulhern to look over the queer-looking and throat-paralyzing names, when, lo and behold—here was one addressed to himself.

Hughie was a Pioneer in the North, and besides he did not like the impostor, on that he might be a Pollock or a Scandinavian—but he got his letter.

PERSPICACITY

(By Catherine Woodard)

The London Advertiser is to be congratulated on its perspicacity. Reading the columns of The Times daily, we formed the impression that with everything was set for the millennium, but we are reassured that while the time will come we will never see it. Our London contemporary, however, avers:

"The time will come—When someone will not be extolling the good old days."

When oldsters will not be viewing with alarm the going on of young people.

When comic sheets will not pretend that husbands are henpecked.

When a reporter, a detective and a person on the stage or in the movies will resemble a reporter, a detective or a person in real life.

When a man will work as hard as he sends his wife and his friends to think he does.

When an employee admits that he is being paid what he is worth.

When professional reformers admit that society is O. K. and voluntarily quit their jobs.

When a man will give up his automobile and explain that he cannot afford one.

When our men will not be stung by false investment salesmen.

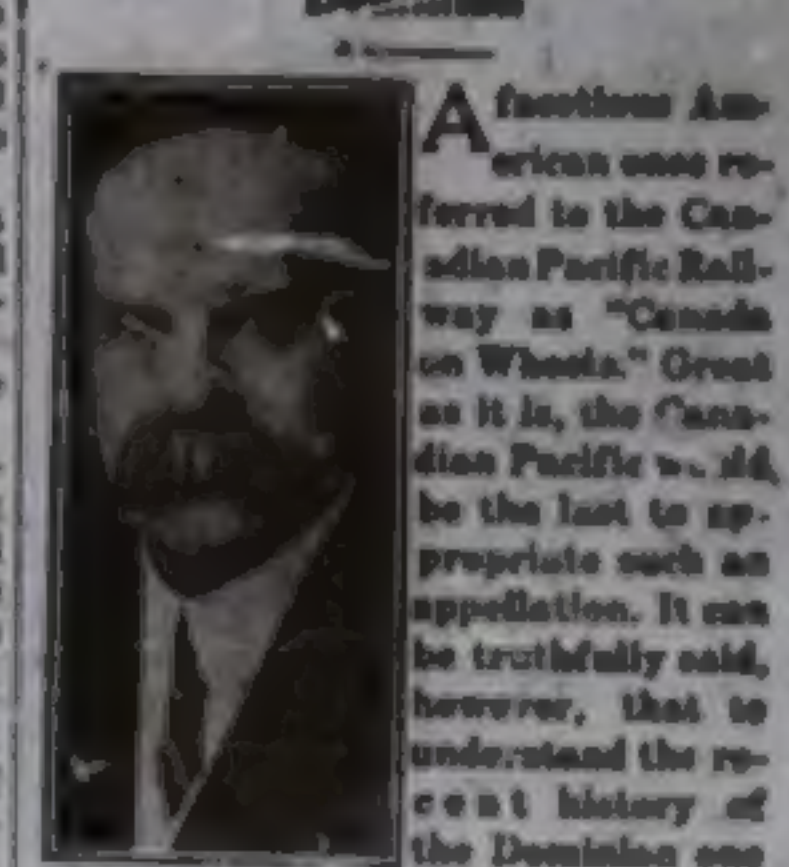

When horses will not take the percentage can "How are you?" as an invitation to give an organ recital.

"The time will come—but we shall never see it."

Horse-racing was known in England as very early times. Fla-dioppon, in the days of Henry II, the first Plantagenet, created the slight taken by the citizens of London in this direction. In the year 1100, a horse race was held in the city of London, and the king took part in it. The race was celebrated and the prizes were given to the victors. The king was very much interested in the race, and he gave a silver bowl to the winner, valued at 100 guineas. King William III, added to the prizes a silver Queen Anne, and William established an academy for the teaching of riding.

NEW BOOK MAKES ROMANCE OF HISTORY

Tells Story of Canadian Pacific Railway and Building of Dominion

R. G. MacBeth must know that of the Canadian Pacific. Now at last comes a volume, well illustrated with photographs, which presents that history in its most palatable form—that is, in a form emphasizing the human factor. "The Romance of the Canadian Pacific Railway," by R. G. MacBeth (The Eye, Toronto, $2.50).

The author, who has a number of historical works to his credit, is singularly well equipped. Apart from his literary skill, he has the advantage of having lived in the Canadian West all his life. He has always been in close touch with the Canadian Pacific, though he has never been connected with it and has written and published his book independently.

Mr. MacBeth here traces the amazing story of the company's development into the world's greatest transportation system; of the steamships, of the telegraph and express; colonization; irrigation; hotels and bungalow camps; of its war service and of all its activities, with a wealth of interesting detail which illustrates the brilliant administrative and organizing ability of its executives.

Canadians would be proud, as Mr. MacBeth reminds them, that their country approved the construction of its pioneer transcontinental when the population was only 4,000,000, though the United States had not dared to undertake a similar road till two times that number. The frightful difficulties, political, technical and financial, through which the company's sponsors and founders fought their way to victory are well summarized. For instance, it is recalled that sections of the line north of Lake Superior cost $200,000 a mile to build, and a making east of Winnipeg swallowed seven tracks before it was conquered. The author shows that the triumphant accomplishment of the work was especially creditable because it took place in a period of immense depression.

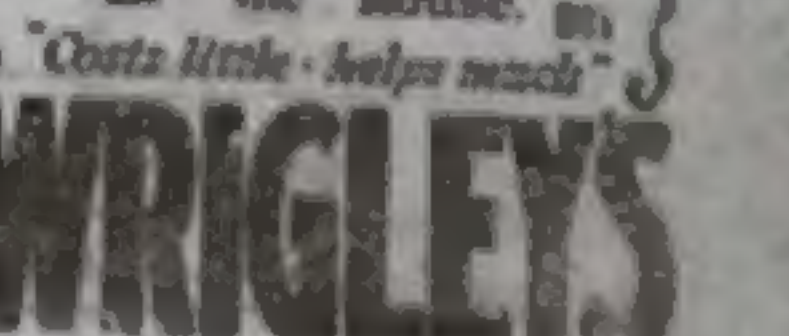

Sir William Van Horne, general manager and later president, that man of tireless energy, vision and determination, is the central figure in the volume and there are many anecdotes illustrating his versatile character. But all the other great men of the company—Mount Stephen, Shaugnessy, Bentley, Angus and a host of others—receive their due. Lord Shaugnessy's fine words: "The shareholders and directors of the company have always been impressed with the idea that the interests of the company are intimately connected with those of the Dominion and no effort or expense has been spared to help in promoting the development of the whole country" are amply backed by the company's deeds. And the author makes a statement which is very a propos when he says: "The country and the railway, in such a case as this, must stand or fall together. Each is necessary to the prosperity of the other. Hence for one to attempt the destruction of the other is practically a roundabout but effective way for that one to commit suicide."

Pass it around the benefit of his aid to digestion. Cleans teeth too. Keep it always in the house.

Costs little. Helps much.

BASKETBALL

Intermediate and Junior Basketball teams from Grimsby High school played in Hamilton last night both being defeated; greater practice facilities giving the city teams an advantage. The intermediates played against Normal, while the Juniors played Delta High. S. P. Williams and Dr. D. Clarke of the board of education, all of the teaching staff with one exception, and a number of students accompanied the teams.

TEA AND COFFEE STAINS

Glycerin will remove tea and coffee stains that have become set in linen. Rub it well into the stained part and then wash as usual, boiling if necessary. All stains will have vanished when this is done.
